The curriculum promotes and builds on essential values and attributes to secure firm foundations for successful futures.

Subject Intent

As Reading is crucial to children's development and potential for success in life, it is at the core of many curriculum areas within Green Oaks Primary Academy. Reading is taught daily during explicit, systematic Phonics lessons taught using Letters and Sounds across Early Years and Key Stage One and through daily comprehensions lessons in Years 2-6, using Jane Considine's Book Talk approach. This is a fully comprehensive approach that: targets reading competencies, covers the National Curriculum and develops understanding, which helps to demonstrate how a reader thinks during the process of 'reading for meaning' and showcasing “thesaurus thinking” to ensure the most precise words are used. Throughout the school children are also presented with many opportunities throughout the school day to read across the whole curriculum.

Through Class Teachers choice of high-quality texts, which link to curriculum topics and celebrate diversity, we intend to develop a culture of reading for pleasure which can be seen throughout the school's language rich environment. With this we aim to provide children with the understanding that reading provides opportunities to discover new knowledge, revisit prior knowledge and understand more about what they learn.

Plans have been developed by the Class Teacher, alongside the support of the Subject Leader, to ensure pupils who know how to apply what they have learnt in demonstration comprehension to their independent work and have a clear view of how to articulate and demonstrate their understanding. Pupils will have the critical language to express themselves and use appropriate book-based language and develop a passion for reading.
